Life

THE GOOD LIFE

Walking up to Main's historic white columns that very first day, each of us felt an excitement that overflowed all our senses. It was an exhilarating feeling that made us want to shout, "Hey, I'm home!"

We soon became aware of that world of activity all around us that created Peace's Good Life: going to Zack's on Thursdays, watching Dynasty on Wednesdays, going to Frat Row and all the football games.

And waking up on Wednesday knowing it was Chapel day was always a thrill. And do not forget studying for Thomas' religion or Blackwell's biology tests. But most important of all are the friends we've made who have helped us share both good and bad times.

All of these — places, activities, people — are The Good Life. They are the sunshine on a cloudy afternoon; they are the music in a silent dorm; they are the laughter which suddenly dries a teary eye; they are you — the Peace Family. And this Peace family has taken us through two unforgettable years.

And though these springtime years of our lives often seem as fragile and as transient as the dandelion, they will create memories that will be as enduring as Main dorm.

Mix and Mingle

As the words "Pull! Pull! Pull!" ring through the hollows and dark crevices of Peace's campus, we can remember those days of competition on the back lawn. Those were days when the Sophomores and the Freshmen would gather their troops and head for battle. In most cases, the Freshmen were victorious. Those were the days when food or dates weren't the topics of conversation. They were times when being with our friends, enjoying the fresh air and the cool breeze, was enough.

They are times to reflect back upon and remember Dr. Frazier chomping into an oversized hamburger, with us slyly watching the succulent juices run down his chin. Or how about those ten girls covered with jello? Or the balloon toss? These are the memories of events which turned that professor, other staff member, or even a student leader into another one of the gang we could talk to. Those marvelous, silly, spontaneous picnics have molded the two classes into one, have united the faculty with the students, and have helped us to feel like a big family.

Hey Girl! What ya doing?

Waking up to a day when nothing is due, when there are no tests and no one is coming over, what do we do? We may sleep all day, or we might decide to go to a party later on.

If a party is the answer, what do we wear? We begin searching those "barren" closets at 9:00 a.m. and finally decide at 9:00 p.m.

If we simply do not wish to go out to Tut's or Frat row, we might stay in and listen to music, music that Crabtree shoppers can sing along with because it's so loud.

And yes, Crabtree is the place to go shopping, or should we wait until Mom brings her credit cards? Why not do something nice for our little sisters, like send them flowers? A few of us could sit and star-gaze after that wonderful guy has sent a dozen roses.

But if none of these are appealing, we can go to dinner — as State/Carolina Fans, as Peace Prisoners, or as ourselves. We can sit and enjoy our dinner, laughing occasionally at stupid jokes, or we can sit and wonder how we could have wasted a whole day. We should have been in the library studying.

"No, maybe later."

It just wouldn't seem right if I walked up to my dorm and that guard didn't approach me in some way. I don't even know his name; all I know is his greeting: "How ya doing, girl?" And that tilted hat and slow-paced strut. No matter where I go to escape, within minutes Mr. Guard is sure to find out where his "girl" is hiding. He may not carry on a lengthy conversation with me, but he is always there. We are his livelihood, and it just wouldn't seem right without him.

I'm a Workaholic!

Oh, to be in kindergarten again when the only concerns in life are which Crayola to use for Jane's dress. But those days are over; we are now in college. What a dreadful sound the word makes. Study this or study that; we never have time to play anymore. We never go anywhere or see anyone during the week; but on those weekends, watch out! Don't you remember the first time we had all those tests in one week? Instead of buckling down and preparing ourselves, we complained. And boy, do we know how to complain! What about the professor who said, "you had better start studying early because there is no way to learn all of this in one night." Did we listen? No! Those late night history and anatomy sessions, those research papers we had only ten notecards for, and those Hamlet and Beowulf books which were to be read by the morning — all of those things seemed to keep us awake at night and make us zombies in the day. But those tests, books, and papers are college. They make us smarter. We did come to college to learn biology or calculus. We came to learn about life!

"T.G.I.F." — Let's Go!

Weekends are those times when work seems unimportant. From Friday at noon til Sunday at 9:00 p.m., Peace girls live it up. Men flock from State, Carolina, and Campbell to Peace. Some girls pack up their radios, suntan lotion, and towels and head for none other than Peace Beach.

Others go out with family and friends and enjoy life. Others sit in a quiet garden-like spot and are content with those things around them and with themselves. They hit the tennis courts and the shopping malls, seeing all there is to see in big Raleigh.

They wake up on Saturday morning and begin watching the "Smurf Cartoon." It's the time when a girl can be with herself to think and to work out life's problems. It's the time one needs to recuperate from last week's labor and strenuous activity. It's time to grow into that person who can make it on her own. It's that good feeling of being free and being at ease with the world. It's being a Peace girl and Loving it!

The phone rings. "Hello, this is Janet. Yes, I'll go out with you to the game. I'll be ready at 5:00, see you then. Bye." There it is, the beginning of a glorious weekend of fun and excitement.

It's 4:30, your hair looks terrible, your make-up makes you look like a ghost, and your clothes make you look fat. What do you do? Panic and yell for your best friend.

It's now 4:50, your girlfriend has made you look gorgeous, but now all we need are the right shoes.

It's 5:00. The loud speaker comes on — "Janet, you have a caller." You walk down those stairs praying you look okay. You see in his eyes that you do. You now go into the world full of confidence.

WE NEVER LEAVE

We have been together through good times and bad; we have grown from girls into women. We have developed our minds and our senses and our feelings. In growing to love Peace and our Peace family, we now know what college is and what college is meant to be.

These two years have been colorful pages in an open volume in our lives. We are home when we walk up to those sturdy white columns or play around the fountain which symbolizes our school.

Peace has meant more than just an education to us. It has meant late-night gossip sessions with classmates; it has meant learning to grow into a person we can like and respect. It has meant learning to stop and really see the world around us.

Peace, our home, is everything a college can offer. It is a place whose memories shall warm us on cold days in the future, whose laughter shall ring in our ears on sad days, whose light shall burn in our hearts forever. Peace is and always will be our Good Life.

ACADEMICS

In this small college where little of the outside world seems to affect us, we need to ask ourselves why we are here. We came to Peace for more than a good education; we came to learn who we are and who we can become. At Peace, we have found all that and much, much more.

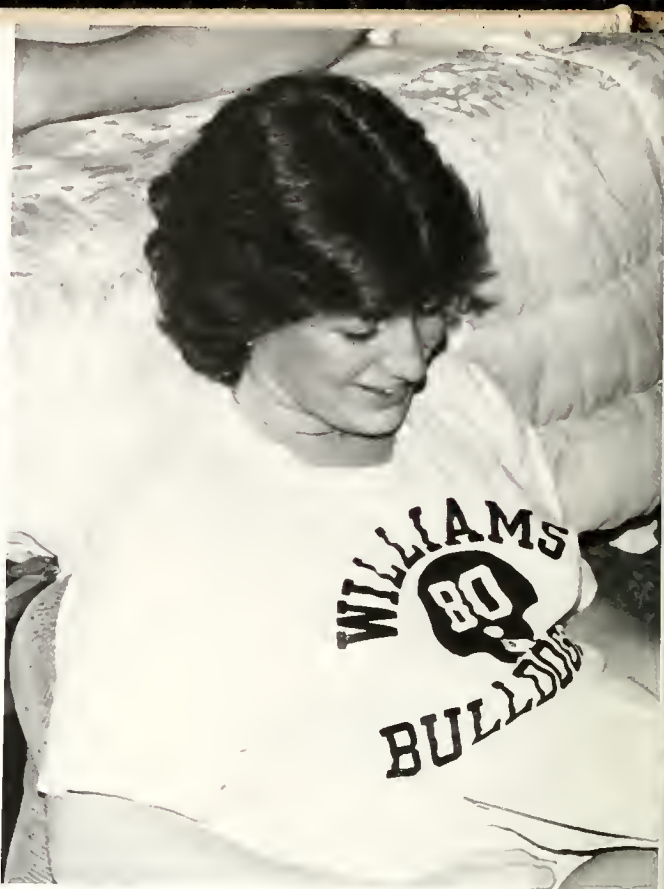

Academics play a very large part in our development as people.

We learn about our capabilities and try to strengthen our weaknesses.

Sitting in class day after day brings us more than tired eyes; it brings us closer to our dreams and to being the absolute best that we can be. Whether we are listening to Dr.

Kanoy talk about child development or watching

Mr. Richie write out an in-depth math formula, we are growing — not only in our intelligence but also in our ability to handle ourselves in the outside world.

GIVE THE TEACHER AN APPLE

You have just gotten back your first test in English. You feel nauseated and wish to leave the room. You soon begin to imagine what your parents will say if they see this grade. You dedicate yourself to doing better the next time; you'll study harder and longer; you won't watch Dynasty instead of reading history; you won't order pizza instead of learning your physiology.

Yes, you think that you have learned your lesson and you know you'll never slip again; however ...

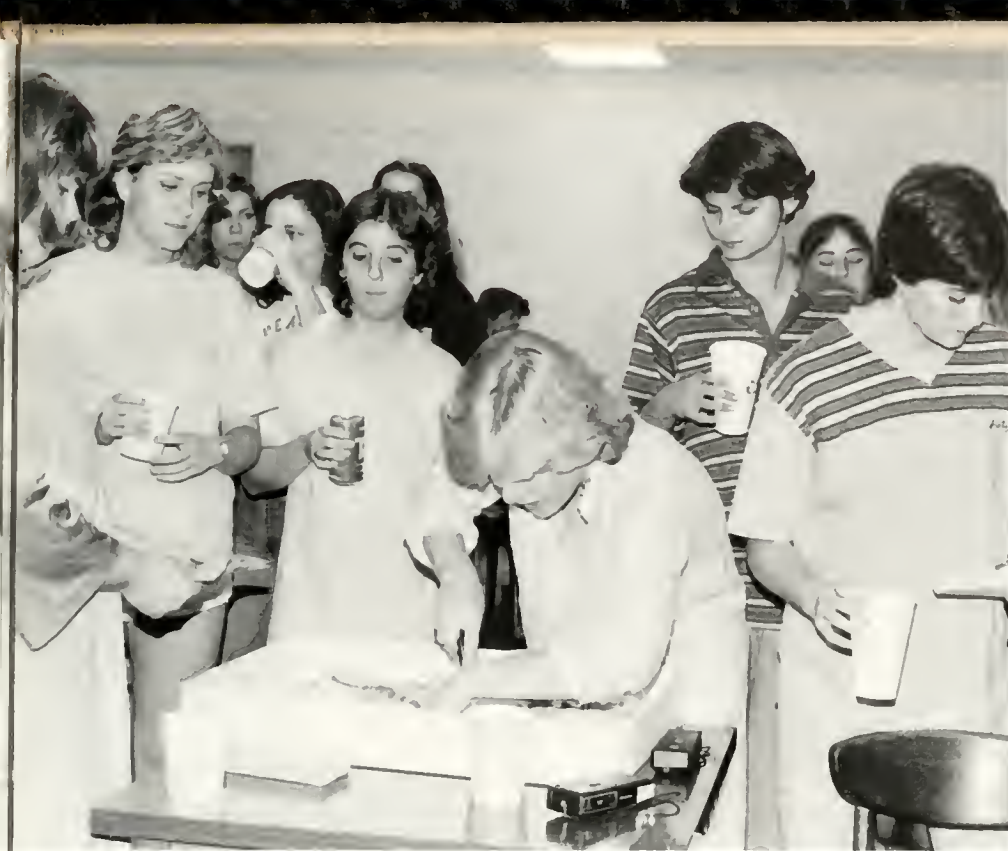

At one time or another all of us have had that experience. The thought of failing drives us mad. We can't take the shape of that infamous "F". It's against those rules set by ourselves and our parents. But is it all that bad? Failing will also make us learn.

Failing can give another chance, with a little better odds.

So the next time you feel like a failure, eliminate that thought from your mind and concentrate on those promises you made to yourself. Learn that history and literature, and most important of all, learn to feel like a success.

CLASSROOM CALAMITY

No matter what class we are in, we can always find some sort of excitement to keep our minds off our work. In most cases the distraction is the professor himself. He seems to sense when something is boring to the student and tries to brighten it up with some short and concise phrase which gets the students' attention and gets a few laughs. The jokes are not always funny, but they get the point across. When this laughter fills the classroom, we gain a sense of relaxation and warmth. The class is no longer a drilling range for facts, figures, and fundamentals. It is now that place to really learn and to experience what an education is. Yes, academics can be trying on us all, but what we get out of the entire process of learning is something worth more than all our work and complaints. It is the knowledge to make us better and brighter individuals and better citizens of the world.

"PEACE ACTION NETTERS"

What do you get with a combination of a new coach and a team consisting entirely of freshmen? A winning team! This year's tennis coach, Ruth Hopkins, has molded this set of girls into fine form. With their smashes and their volleys, the Green Giants exhibit their poise and their style.

"BASKETBALL: A GIANT SUCCESS"

"Michele Davis up for two."

The 1983 Basketball Team is a sound part of Peace College. Peace's fine academic tradition is repeated in the fine tradition found only in our Green Giants. They are lead by Susan Cox, who makes these outstanding athletes into outstanding and caring individuals.

Her team plays the game of school life as well as the game of basketball. They travel the road of success every night they dribble the ball onto the court. We congratulate the team, led by both freshmen and sophomores, for being a big part of Peace's athletic program.

NOBODY DOES IT BETTER

The PSGA is the basis for our student activities. It is the group which begins a task and works diligently until things get done.

The name of the game for them is success. They set the highest priorities and do anything that is needed to achieve them. From working toward a successful spring dance to deciding on what day to run the Christmas Chain, the PSGA gets it together. They are the heart of the school; they are our stepping stones to a more rounded and enjoyable education.

We may not thank them very much, now, but when we reflect on our years here at Peace, they will be in the center of everything that made our lives bigger and better.

Kim Hilton — Sec. PSGA

Gerri Spain — Parl. PSGA

THE PLEASURE OF GETTING IT TOGETHER

IT'S ONE OF THOSE DAYS

WHAT NOW?

It's early Tuesday morning, and I awaken from a week of rest. She hurriedly picks me up and walks with me across campus. She sits down and, with a smile, gently taps my head on the table. Then I patiently wait and listen ... This is the good life for me. The meeting comes to an end, and she taps me once more to close the meeting. Mine is not such a big job, but I'm proud to be a symbol of the PSGA and a part of Peace College.

FAITH IS THE KEY

Elizabeth Mangum — PSCA
Pres.

The PSCA provides opportunity for fellowship and service on and off campus. The first few weeks of school, the sophomores and the big sister-little sister program offered their support to the newcomers. Peanut Week gave Peace girls and faculty a chance to make two new friends through the exchange of secret gifts. The PSCA promoted and encouraged Christian fellowship through weekly chapel services, Bible study, and FCA and by providing transportation to Sunday morning worship services at First Presbyterian Church of Raleigh.

PSCA Cabinet
Leigh Umstead — VP PSCA

ORDER IN THE COURT

This is probably what you'd expect to hear when appearing before the Honor Court for the first time. Well, that's not quite the style. The Honor Court has very informal meetings. Because they make students feel very comfortable, the Honor System seems to work very well for our school. Since the rules are what give Peace its character, this group is an essential part of campus life.

Tracy Smith — Pres. Honor Ct.

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT THE HONOR CODE

"Strict!"

"I don't think about it."

"Confining."

"Do we have an honor code?"

"Doesn't affect me."

"Limits oneself."

"It makes you be on your best behavior at all times."

"Susie Snow, you're wanted in Dean Edwards' office. Where were you on Dec. 4, 1963? What were you doing at nine o'clock on this date?"

Susan Carson — Sec.

Alex Mason — Pres. PSRA

Karen Kingsbury

LINKAGE EFFECT

Sherry O'Neal — Head RA

"What else, Sherry?"

Resident Assistants

RA's are a vital part of our dorm life here at Peace. They provide a link to student government activities throughout the year.

They are not only a source of information, but they are also a good friend in times of need. What would we do without them?

FRESHMEN, TURNING IT OUT!

Freshman officers

President — Kelly Smith, Vice-President — Alice Fuqua, Secretary — Caroline Cain

Do you remember that tingling awe you felt that day back in late August as you drove up in front of Main, East, Finley, or perhaps even Ross. The RA's descended upon your car, snatching your suitcases from you only to deposit them in your new room. We laugh at all our naive mistakes and freshman silliness now.

Can't you just remember the bewildered face of the first girl to open a 7:00 door and be greeted by the screeching alarm? How many of us leaped out of our beds at night prepared for a fire drill or ran to the hall phone the first few times the late bell rang at night? And all those times we forgot to sign out? Oh, just remember the excitement of dressing up in our new plaid Polo's and piling on our shimmering gold add-a-beads to impress one of those marvelously irresistible, or so we thought, Frat Boys at the parties on the Row. Some sophomores say that we outdid even them with our party spirit. Maybe they have just forgotten.

Although we complained about our rigidly small allowance of study-cuts for those first eight weeks of school, they have probably been our saving grace for making us stay in and do our homework, thus preventing us from flunking out of our science, math, and English classes that utilize so much of our precious time. Our enthusiasm with our class has been magnificent. When we elected class officers, we had to decide between 5 presidential candidates, 4 vice-president candidates, and 3 secretarial candidates. We have developed into a united class with many lasting memories.

It's all over now. The wonder of the parties, the tear of our professors, and the foolishness of staying up late, singing at the top of our lungs until our dorm mothers glared out their cracked doors at us. We are now well on our way to being successful students and later prominent business women, teachers, doctors, nurses, and other important people in society. We shall always remember this year: We, the freshman of Peace College.

SOPHOMORES ON THE MOVE!

Sophomore Class Officers: Tonya Stone, Alice Micklem, and Marsha Griffin

Throughout this year, sophomore class members have given Peace College their full devotion and support. Their overall enthusiasm for Peace activities provides a model for freshmen. This year, sophomores have lead the school in academics, athletics, and varied extra-curricular activities.

For them these two years have been challenging and not totally free of problems and turmoil. They have seen dreams shattered and rebuilt again. They have seen relationships created and nourished. Yet most important of all, they have built a bond of love between themselves and their college.

THE MARSHAL ARTISTS

LOOK WHO'S IN THE MU'S

Sigma Delta Mu is the first national honor society to be established for two-year colleges. Although a fairly new organization at Peace, Sigma Delta Mu engages in numerous and successful activities. Some of these include an annual Christmas party containing various Spanish holiday treats and an international food festival consisting of dishes ranging from Oriental foods to Mexican ones. Sigma Delta Mu is a growing organization and is proud to represent Peace College in the area of foreign language.

Sigma Delta Mu Members — Spanish Whizzes!

Future Business Women's Club is the easiest club to join. There are no officers, no scheduled meetings, no dues to pay. Everyone is invited to hear speakers to talk on subjects ranging from the importance of resumes to the changing role of women in the business world. The Future Business Women's Club offers every girl at Peace the opportunity to better herself as a conscientious student and as a business woman of the future.

WOMEN ON THE MOVE IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

GO PERFORM IN A LAKE

Requirements for the Porpoise Club: Can you hold your breath; can you float; can you point your toes; can you dive into the pool without a splash; can you swim ten feet without a noseplug; can you swim on a full stomach after eating thanksgiving dinner in the dining hall; can you swim in the dark; and finally, if pushed into the pool, would you panic, swallow water and sink to the bottom, drown, or none of the above? If you answered no to any of these questions, join the porpoise club.

"Susie Homemaker"

"Sugar and Spice!"

"IT RUNS IN THE FAMILY . . ."

We the members of the 1982-83 Daughters and Granddaughters Club are composed of students whose mothers, grandmothers, and/or greatgrandmothers attended Peace. Throughout the year, we sponsor several fund-raising projects for a scholarship fund which was established in 1976. Peace College cross-stitch patterns, pewter keychains, and hand decorated candlewick pillows are sold to benefit the scholarship. Other activities include decorating Main Parlor's Christmas tree and sponsoring a clogging class. We have tried to carry on the tradition of our mothers.

PEACE COLLEGE "IN THE NEWS"

We, the Peace Times staff, are eighteen girls who have volunteered our service to do everything from reporting and editing copy to typing and drawing layouts. This year our staff has tried to create a new image for the Peace Times that includes every aspect of student life here at Peace, as well as events off campus that have touched our lives. We hope we have served you well.

GET A LOAD OF THE PRISM

The Prism is a literary magazine that publishes students' literary works. We also sponsor the Cider House at which a visiting artist recites some of his or her selected work.

The Prism incorporates many styles of writing. It is an outlet for free-minded individuals to express themselves through their work. The Prism is published annually and is quite popular among the students, faculty, and administration.

LET'S PRAY — THEN PLAY!

FCA Cabinet

The FCA is a Christian club built around young athletes and other individuals who enjoy sports and fellowship with other girls. The FCA meets bi-monthly, and they enjoy listening to various guest speakers.

The girls in FCA enjoy sing-a-longs and going on field trips. FCA presents to anyone the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ and sharing his love with others. FCA is an exciting and fulfilling club to be in!

AIN'T NOTHING LIKE SHOWBIZ

The Drama Club is definitely a "get involved" organization. Its members participate in such activities as stage construction, ushering, and ticket sales. It is through this club that the school's drama productions are publicized. The club encourages its members to audition for the plays that are performed each semester. This year the club had a late night scenery painting party where we all painted scenery until two in the morning. While we worked, we enjoyed hot cider and fresh doughnuts. It is this type of activity that makes the drama club such an interesting group to work with.

B.Y.O.B. BRING YOUR OWN BIBLE

Under the leadership of Trudie Blackwell, the Bible Study at Peace College is a combination of love, laughs, and good fellowship with other students. The students involved come on their own free will and gain an emotional uplifting found only with God. Through singing, reading scripture, and prayer, the students not only find out more about religion but also learn about themselves as Christian individuals.

THE PRESIDENT

S. David
Frazier:
Our President —
Our Leader —
Our Friend!

Who is that man who always has a smile on his face no matter what time it is? He is S. David Frazier — our President. But, he is more than just the chief administrator; he is also a man who cares about his students as people. Academics play a large role in a college education, but so do other things such as athletics, student government, and fellowship with your neighbor down the hall. Dr. Frazier tries to make his students aware of these values. He wants Peace girls not only to have an outstanding education, but also to enjoy themselves while they are getting one. He cares and makes his students care. We can never thank him enough, but we can say, at this time: We will remember you as we travel on through our lives.

You can hear her laugh from a mile away. You can see that big bright smile at the darkest of times; and you know that, when you walk into her office, you will be talking to a friend. Dean Edwards is a friend to us all. She will always be there if we need her. We will long remember her as the little lady with the big heart.

Dean Perry is not only a great Academic Dean but also a great man. You can tell when he's coming by the smell of his cigar and the bellowing of his words. He reminds you of Santa Claus without the beard. His calm nature and his easy-going life-style make him all the more honored. He is funny, sensitive, honest, and caring. He is just one more member of our family to love.

THE HEART OF PEACE COLLEGE

What makes up the most important part of Peace College? The combination of students and teachers working together to provide an atmosphere which aids the students in achieving an education which is beneficial, not only to the students, but also to those people we will affect when we graduate. The following people deserve much more credit than they receive. They inspire us, they make us laugh, they make us cry, and they make us better than we are. We will long remember those endless hours of sitting through their classes, studying for their tests, even talking with them in the halls about the Carolina/State game coming on T.V. ....

Oh, to be young again in the confines of Peace College with no worries except those which seem trivial now. Those were the best of times and, because of our teachers, faculty, and staff, we have striven and have achieved an education which will long be remembered after we leave Peace — our Home!

HOW MANY STUDENTS FALL ASLEEP IN YOUR CLASS DAILY?

Members of the faculty were asked to answer this question. Here are a few responses . . .

"None! Unless they can sleep in the water."

"Since one student falls asleep about once a week, I would say that the daily rate is .2."

"None, I'm too loud."

"I don't know. I'm too busy to notice."

Well, there you have it folks — our teachers, our family, and, more importantly, our friends. Remember Mr. Crossno talking about cats or Ms. Blackwell saying, “they always start the blowers when I’m teaching and never when anyone else is.” These are the things to remember and to laugh about and to cherish. Yes, the heart of Peace College is our faculty and staff. And it may live as long as the Peace College tradition thrives and as long as those white columns tower above the rest of the campus.

FEATURES

FEATURES

A vital part of Peace is its extra-curricular activities. From eating on the lawn to sleeping in Belk Hall, Peace students can always find some activity to enliven their patterned way of life. Dinners and dancing lead the field of fun events. Laughter and love ring in the air as students and faculty alike join together in sports and academics. These happenings are the basis of Peace's home-like environment. Here at Peace we can find new friends whose spirit will remain with us the rest of our lives. The picnics, dances, banquets, and lectures are important to us all, and we love them.

“EAT, DRINK, AND BE MERRY

IN OUR
PALACE”

Pease College has many fine traditions. Among these are the special dinners. While here at Peace, students can sit down every night to a fresh-smelling, tasty dinner. However, nothing can compare to those special dinners of Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. There is a certain kind of excitement which fills the halls on those dinner dates. Students rush down to Belk Hall to be first in line. People come to dinner dressed as chain gangs or burglars.

They sing to us and make us laugh and cry. These dinners mean not only good food but also good friends and good memories.

Parents' Weekend is always a special time for Peace girls, for it brings together our loved ones. It is a time to take Mom shopping, listen to Dad talk about sports, and give thanks for having such loving parents. Because of the events which take place — the football game, the picnic, and the talent show, the time spent with those two very special people will long be remembered.

The play She Stoops To Conquer was presented this year by our drama department during Mother/Daughter Weekend. Lisa Morrison starred in the play along with many other talented Peace students. The play was a great success which the mothers, along with the daughters, applauded enthusiastically.

Mother-Daughter Weekend is a chance to show off Mom to all your best friends. It is also the chance to share a few quiet moments with someone who means so much to you and to whom you are becoming a mature person.

It is the time to say thanks for all her kindness, a time for every girl to be with her best friend — her MOM! Taking Mom shopping can be one way of telling her just how much you love her. Other activities may include taking her to see a play or dining with her in Belk Hall. But most of all, you give your mother this weekend to say: "I love you, mom, and I'm proud to be your daughter."

“WHO’S WHO . . . ”

Who's Who is a national organization which recognizes outstanding service and leadership in Junior College students. The nominees are selected by the faculty here at Peace. It is a great honor to be chosen one of the nine most accomplished sophomores in one's class. Each of these girls deserves admiration and gratitude from every member of the student body. These girls help to make Peace the outstanding school that we are proud to call home. Now, let's meet the Who's Who nominees:

Amy Ball is not just a member of Phi Theta Kappa, co-business manager for the Lotus, a member of Circle K and the Home Economics Club, she is also a good friend to all. We know her for sharing herself with others.

WENDY COX has demonstrated all the qualities necessary for inclusion in this selection. She is President of PSGA and Co-editor of the Lotus, and is active in Bible study. She devotes herself to her family, her friends, and her school.

MONA HALL is a key member of her class. As President of Phi Theta Kappa, a Porpoise Club member, and Chairman of the Orientation Committee, she shows her charm and friendliness. We all love her and treasure her friendship.

ELIZABETH MANGUM plays an integral part in Peace life. She is President of PSCA, is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and the Chamber Singers, and plays in many intramural events. In her concern for all, she is an exemplary Peace student.

ALEX MASON is outstanding in her dedication and leadership. As President of PSRA, she serves as Chairman for many special events. She is also a member of the Lotus staff. We thank her for many jobs well done.

ALICE MICHLEM, Sophomore Class President, is not only athletic but also intellectual, as revealed by her membership in Phi Theta Kappa and the basketball team. Her wit and charm give the final touch to her winning personality.

PAT PRICE is co-Editor of the Lotus, member of Circle K and Phi Theta Kappa, and a Porpoise Club member. An ideal Peace student, she has given us her hard work, dedication, and many hours of her time.

SUELYNNE REMETIO is a leader in many ways. As president of Chamber Singers, a member of Circle K and Phi Theta Kappa, and Chairman of the Social and Foods Committee, she reveals her energy and versatility.

TRACY SMITH is an active girl in Peace life. She is President of the Honor Court, a member of Phi Theta Kappa and Sigma Delta Mu. Bright and cheerful, she can be seen all around campus as she helps to make "honor" a meaningful word at Peace.

MAY QUEEN

The May Queen and Court are chosen on the basis of charm, personality, and beauty. This year's recipients demonstrate these qualities.

This year's May Queen, MONA HALL, has charm, intelligence, and wit. Her bright smile and warm brown eyes are just two of her many assets. As queen, she will set a standard for those who come after her.

This year's Maid-of-Honor, CARA POTTER, has been said to have the "sweetness of a kitten." Her lovable nature, kindness and thoughtfulness can be seen in her sunny smile.

MAY COURT

JILL ETHERIDGE is bubbling with enthusiasm and vitality no matter what time of day we see her. Her energy is contagious, and she can make our day with her smile.

MISSY LAWTON, another member of our court, inspires us with her friendliness and love. Since she brightens up our campus in all seasons, she surely represents us well in spring.

ALEX MASON can be described best with the words "fun loving" and "individualistic." There can be no carbon copy of her, and we are glad that we have the original.

DIANE TONEY is known for her caring personality. She makes everyone feel at ease; being with her is like being at home with a good friend.

The four girls selected from the Freshman Class to be May Court Representatives include CATHY BROWN, MARILYN BUTLER, DAWN HALL, and KELLY SMITH. Each of these girls has contributed much to Peace life.

Each contributes to Peace's tranquil atmosphere and friendly environment. We congratulate these four girls on their accomplishments and wish them much luck in the future as exemplary Peace girls.

MISS PEACE

Who else could have been chosen? Who else really deserved the honor? WENDY SUE COX has demonstrated all the characteristics which place her in a league by herself. She has shown the devotion and caring for Peace that make her such a vital part of our lives. She has a deep understanding for all her friends.

As President of the PSGA, she demonstrates her fine leadership abilities. As Co-Editor of the Lotus, she puts her creativity to work. And as a member of her class, she shares with us all. Wendy cares for the well-being of everyone she comes in contact with, and she exhibits the charm, warmth, and love of an ideal Miss Peace.

Outstanding Sophomores

WENDY SUE COX is a small town girl who has made it big at a small, quiet college. She has met many challenges with great success, and we applaud her achievements.

MONA HALL has given Peace her charm, her warmth, and her love for school and friends. As a leader of her class, Mona is dedicated and devoted.

ELIZABETH MANGUM is that girl who has too much to do to stay in one place for more than ten seconds. With her bright smile and soft-spoken voice, she makes us grateful to God for giving us such a close and loving friend.

ALEX MASON is the person who always volunteers, always helps a friend out of a bind, and always has a shoulder for someone to lean on. Her caring attitude has helped mold our class into one of the best in Peace's history.

ALICE MICKLEM is intelligent, witty, athletic, and lovable. She has a relaxed, easy way of looking at life. She is, above all, a Christian who cares about her fellow students.

PAT PRICE has received many honors for her outstanding service and devotion to Peace. She loves sports, and she isn't afraid of a little hard work. However, her truest assets lie in her charm and kindness.

TRACY SMITH runs into many trying situations as Pres. of Honor Court; however, with her deep understanding of human nature and her fine judgement, she always seems to make the right decisions. We thank her for her openness and understanding.

LEIGH UMSTEAD is a dedicated girl who brightens our home away from home with her charisma, good looks, and wit. As Vice-President of the PSCA, she is a sincere friend to us all.

NOW WHERE DID THE GIRL

One of the worst parts of leaving Peace is leaving the presence of all your friends and wondering whether you will ever see or hear from them again. It is sad to think that you may never hear from those people you eat, sleep, and study with every day. However, if those people mean so much to you, you will keep in touch.

DOWN THE HALL LIVE?

Drop them a line every once in a while to let them know how you are doing or just to say hello. The people you have met here are ones who have become a vital and constant part of your life. They have been your support and guidance for two years. It is up to you to keep up with them and to keep alive the memories you shared.

As I stand gazing out onto the fountain, I wonder if I will ever be the same again. I feel as though the last two years of my life have been spent in a place sent especially by God. He has given me a faculty who takes time out to listen to me. He has given me some of the best friends I have ever had or ever will have in my life. He has allowed me to share the joy of good times as well as the sorrow of bad times. But most of all, He has given me the chance to be me. He has given me the opportunity to stand up and shout, "Hey, I'm me!" He has opened my eyes to what the world has in store for me, and He has allowed me to share myself with those people whom I deeply and devotedly love and admire.

I can ask no more of Him or of Peace. It is now time to bid the halls and the classrooms good-bye. I have reached a point in my life when I can now be on my own; and yes, I will manage. Through the guidance of my professors, friends, family, and God, I will manage and I will succeed in this game of life. I will walk away from those broad, white columns and that everflowing fountain with my head held high. And as I leave, I will remember those two glorious years here and will tuck those memories away in the most cherished part of my heart.
